2011 Canadian Society of Value Analysis (CSVA) Annual Conference

Innovation through Value Analysis

A 21st Century Best Practice

Join industry leaders from across Canada to learn and experience 21st Century best practices in delivering innovation in projects, products and processes through Value Analysis and Risk Analysis.

This year the Canadian Society of Value Analysis conference will be held in downtown Toronto from November 14th to November 16th, 2011.

Who should attend?

Do you have a process to do more with less?

Value Analysis and Risk Analysis will enable you to maximize the use of resources by achieving the optimum balance between key stakeholder needs and available resources.

Are you facing challenges delivering your business while meeting fiscal and staffing constraints?

Value Analysis is a structured approach to innovation and innovation is key to delivering services in a fiscally constrained environment.

Are you considering alternative financing and procurement?

Application of risk and value analysis methods will allow you to manage scope and risk which will better control your schedule and costs.

Join the conference to learn from your counterparts.
